

The Bloomington Independent:

"Stiller anchored the production with poignancy and drama. She handled comedic moments well but her real strength was in the bitter sweet humor of unfulfilled lives".